WANTED — 1,000 under-35's

Max Wilson, Managing Director of Travel Savings Association, has announced two 1964 cruises in the Empress of Britain exclusively for young people. No reservations will be accepted for anyone over 35.

Says Mr. Wilson: "Young people have not taken to sea cruises, partly because they have the idea these are for older people, and also because they are too expensive. We are a Sea-minded nation, and by designing these cruises for under 35's, with top-class entertainment and at a price young people can afford, I believe we will attract a vast new market which the shipping industry so badly needs."

The first cruise leaves Southampton on 6th April and lasts nine days, calling at Tangier, Gibraltar and Lisbon, returning to Southampton. The second leaves on 17th April, also from Southampton, calls at the same ports but lasts ten days and returns to Liverpool.

There will be top-class bands on board, with Lance Percival heading the entertainment bill on the first cruise and Alma Cogan on the second.

For members of T.S.A. the lowest fare is £38 for the first cruise and £40 for the second, and the top rate will not be more than £103.

As reported in the previous edition of The Review, membership of T.S.A. costs two guineas for individuals and three guineas for a family. This fee entitles members not only to the very low cruise rates but also covers holiday insurance and a discount purchasing scheme covering hotels, restaurants, car hire firms, etc., both in this country and abroad.
