Mr. Osmond retires

Mr. Colin William Osmond, chief engineer, retired on January 7 after a sea-going career of more than 42 years.

He joined the South American Saint Line as chief engineer in July, 1947 and since being with the Group has served in the Clan Maclean, Constance Bowater and various vessels on relieving duties.

He held a first class steam certificate.

Bosun E. L. Anderson and one of his charges on Riebeeck Castle. Five horses were shipped from Southampton to Port Louis, Mauritius, recently and for the 43 days they were on board he had the job of looking after them. We are pleased to report that the animals turned out in excellent condition after their long voyage
