■ Ian Leal, senior master-at-arms with B&C, has just completed a series of fire-fighting courses on the Union-Castle passenger liners. Leal, a former Royal Navy instructor on fire-fighting, organised the courses for all sea staff and is pictured showing members of the galley staff aboard SA Oranje how to use compressed air breathing apparatus. He has been with B&C for four-and-a-half years after spending 28 years in the Royal Navy; is now organising similar courses on the two cargo mailships, Good Hope Castle and Southampton Castle.
