

[Photo: British Transport Docks Board

To Cut Vibration

This recent photograph of the S.A. Vaal in the King George V Drydock, Southampton, shows the completion of the fitting of two new 6-bladed propellers. Each weighing 25 tons, and made from a new material called Superston 70, they replace the 4-bladed propellers fitted to the ship when she was built in 1961