

■ There are quite a few artists at sea in group vessels, and naturally enough the attention of their pens and brushes is often turned to ships and the sea. In this spirited drawing of Lanarkshire, R. Baxter (third officer, recently serving on Rothesay Castle) shows what can be done with the economy of black and white.